TO MAY.

Come, beautiful May!
Like youth and love!
Like her I love; oh, come in thy full dress,
The drapery of dark and of east away;
To the bright eye, and the heart that appear,
Queen of the spring, and the press of the year!

Yet, lovely May!
Teach me whose eyes shall, upon this rhyme,
To spin the gilded meekness of time,
The heartless pomp that seeks to betray,
And keep, as thou wilt find, the heart each year,
Pure as thy dawn, and as thy sunset clear.

And let me, too, sweet May,
Let thy fond votary say,
As fade thy beauties, all the things of decay,
Of this world's pageant, then, that though
In his short winter, bury heart and fame,
In finer world's the soul shall seek his way,
Another spring shall bloom, and the same.

FIRE IN A NEW ENGINE AND VILLAGE.

Take you this axe, and in pieces knock that bedstead,
But careful be; the cords must not be cut.

Little Bill.

In the town of —, in the state of Connecticut, there is, or, at least, there was, an engine for the purpose of extinguishing fires.

The machine was none of the best, being deprived of one arm, and suction apparatus; attached to it was a hook and ladder, a trumpet, and at least ten feet of hose, on the end of which was a doubled and twisted, rotary, elongated, transverse, copper pipe, for the ejection of water; the hook was made out of a large pin, fastened in the end of a pole sixty-two feet long, with a round at each end; the trumpet was of thick pasteboard, and in the possession of the chief engineer; some twelve or fourteen members were attached to this "infernal machine," besides numerous volunteers.

The company deserves a formal introduction to the reader. I will endeavor, to give the outline of a few of the most prominent members, and leave the filling up to the reader's imagination.

The chief engineer was designated by the appellation of "Little Bill;" he was, in stature, about four feet six in height, and measured six feet two in girth, exclusive of his garments; his countenance was of the Doric order, interspersed with touches of the Corinthian; his eyes were large and white; he always had a mouthful of news, and the people of the town considered him as good as a daily country paper and a city post office combined; so much for "Little Bill."

The next in office was a man of tremendous proportion, called "Uncle Charley," a cognomen of good nature; then there was a second Lambert, weighing four hundred and sixty pounds, net, who was possessed of a nose that resembled a lobster's claw, and of nearly the same color.

The next was a man of parts, that is, legs, with a body so short, and mounted on so lofty a pair of stilts, that he reminded one of a pair of tongs widely extended. There was another, with a voice as rough as a grater, and a mouth so crooked, that a person would suppose he had fallen into a brook in his youth, and his mother had hung him by that organ on a picket fence to dry; and another, with such peculiar eyes, that a casual observer would think he had been born in the middle of the week, and was looking each way for Sunday.

The balance of the company were nearly as good as the sample which is before the reader. Such was the engine and company of —.

The good people had not been disturbed by an alarm of fire for fifteen years, "more or less," and the company became nearly disbanded; but one night, (a lucky event for the town of —) some boys were skating upon the river, and, for better amusement, they built a large fire on the ice, which alarmed the good citizens, and hundreds flocked to the scene to find out the cause. Little Bill was the first man on the ground, and openly declared it to be dangerous; the man with the legs thought so too; "something should be done," said the man with the nose; the Lord knows where it will stop; "oh! most likely it will burn considerable," said Uncle Charley. After some consultation, it was agreed that the fire should be extinguished; the crowd then turned towards home, but being so much alarmed by the illumination they had seen, it was thought best to repair to the engine house and re-organize the company anew.

They did so; the old officers were re-elected, and each one made a stump speech suitable for the occasion. The meeting was called to order, and a question put, which was, that in case there ever should be a fire, whether they should walk or run to it; to use man power, or horse, for the transportation of the engine. The fit man thought it infinitely the best to walk and to use horse power; the man with the legs voted for man power and running; Little Bill roared for horse power; Uncle Charley thought animal power the best. Finally, it was carried, that in case of a fire, the engine should be dragged by horse power, and seats to be made on the top of it, for the transportation of the members. Little Bill was appointed a committee of one to purchase an animal; they then retired to a corner cupboard, drank, and adjourned.

The next day, the whole town was in commotion, and the news spread far and near, that the fire company had resolved to purchase a horse. About twelve o'clock, crowds of people might be seen on every corner, displaying their frames for inspection, and descending upon the extraordinary merits of each animal. At length, Little Bill and his suite came in sight, and the shouts that proceeded from the horse dealers and spectators were deafening. After two hours consideration, a horse was bought, for five dollars, and the receipt of "sound in wind, and limb," etc., taken; the crowd opened, and the cavalcade took up their line of march, headed by Little Bill, toward their engine house, amid the groans and sighs of some disappointed jockeys, and the shouts of the multitude.

About a week after the purchase, the bell of the Presbyterian meeting house rung for nine o'clock, a signal for all well regulated families to retire, the town was hushed, and the one watchman was preparing to take a nap, when suddenly there was a great illumination in the upper part of the town, and he surmised it might be fire. Determined to act on the impulse of the moment, he walked up and down the town, crying as loud as he could bawl, "Citizens of —, I am sorry to disturb you, but, ladies and gentlemen, fire! if you please!" After a long time, a bell commenced ringing, and the dreadful cry of fire! fire! fire! was distinctly heard. Little Bill sat bolt upright in bed, rubbing his eyes, and biting his fingers to see if he was in his right senses. "Hark! what was that, fire?" He could not be mistaken. "There's fire," said he, "and I, aint out with the engine. Fire! fire! fire!" roared Bill. "What's the matter?" cried his wife. "Fire! fire! fire!" exclaimed Little Bill. Well, the boots were on, the fire cap, the overcoat, etc., and he grasped the paste-board trumpet. After taking an affectionate leave of his family, he sailed forth, shouting fire! fire! fire! as loud as he could bawl.

Concluded to-morrow.

TUESDAY, MAY 12, 1846.

The "News."—Yesterday morning we issued the regular edition of our paper, at 7 o'clock, containing a full report of the Ecclesiastical Council recently in session at the North Baptist Church, in the town,—which is a valuable document, and worthy of preservation.

We also published important Mexican news, received by us the evening before, from New York, together with a variety of other interesting matter, with local news, &c.

We had scarcely worked off our regular edition, when we received an Extra N. Y. Sun, containing still later intelligence from Mexico, giving an account of a conflict; and in less than three quarters of an hour from the time the paper was placed in our hands, we issued a Second Edition of the News, containing the whole account, as published in the Sun. The rush for papers, at our office, was immense, and for more than one hour, we could barely supply the demand for them; to say nothing of furnishing our carriers and news boys, although our press was going at its utmost speed all the time.

We think we have given the good people of Newport, some evidence that we are determined to spare no exertions to lay before them the latest news, in the quickest possible time; and we only need their patronage, as it has thus far been bestowed upon us, to encourage us to renewed efforts. We shall always issue an Extra, whenever there is anything of importance, whether received by the mails, or obtained from private sources. We printed and sold eleven hundred copies of the News yesterday.

STEAMER ROGER WILLIAMS.—This splendid Steamer is decidedly the swiftest boat that has ever been on the waters of Narragansett Bay. She came down from Providence, last Saturday morning, in one hour and twenty minutes. She was built by Messrs. Burtis & Morgan, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and is 200 feet in length, 27 feet beam, 50 feet outside to outside, and is 447 tons burthen. She has a powerful beam engine, manufactured by R. H. Dunham & Co., of New York; it is of the most modern pattern, with all the late improvements. Her engine has a 44 inch cylinder, 11 feet stroke of piston,—her wheels are 29 1-2 feet in diameter, 8 1-2 feet face. The joiner work was made by R. C. Bell, of New York,—the upholstery, by Mr. Grimshaw, of N. Y.—furniture by Mr. Colwell, of Jersey City, and painting by Messrs. Bootman & Smith, of N. Y. The ladies' saloon is as neat as a drawing room, and reflects great credit on the generosity and taste of her owners. The cabins are also well arranged, and beautifully furnished, and have all the necessary attractions, to make the Roger Williams a great favorite with the travelling public.

She is owned by Captains Charles and B. F. Woolsey, and H. C. Mathewson, Esq., of Providence. She was built under the direction of her gentlemanly and popular commander, Capt. B. F. Woolsey. She will now run regularly between this place and Providence, and we trust she will be so well patronized, that she will never leave us.

The U. S. Squadron at Vera Cruz was perfectly healthy the last of April,—no yellow fever.

OUR ARMY IN TEXAS.—A correspondent of the Newark Daily Advertiser, writing from Matamoras April 20th, speaks of American and Mexican forces as follows:—

Whatever was the occasion of the enemy's advance and sudden retreat, it is certain that they continue busily employed upon the defences; battery after battery is rapidly advancing toward completion, and a place that might have been taken by a thousand men on the day of our arrival, may now be easily held against three times our whole force. We work upon our own fortifications with increased diligence, three regiments laboring constantly, being relieved at M. by fresh troops. There is now no Sabbath observed in the American camp.

The impression is gaining ground among us, that the Mexicans will not make any attack at present; but it is impossible to say what they intend to do.

It is evident to the meanest capacity that the "Army of Occupation" has, for the present, come to a full stop as now constituted; it cannot advance a single foot to avenge any outrage, however great, that may be committed; it can only act upon the defensive, and even then with doubtful success. Forbearance toward our perfidious neighbor is, so far as this Army is concerned, no longer a virtue, but an absolute necessity. Clearly, our Government should have a force, if any, of respectable size at this point—one which could operate in the field as circumstances might require.

There is a well known custom prevailing in our criminal courts, of assigning counsel to such prisoners as have no one to defend them. On one occasion, the court, finding a man accused of theft, and without counsel, said to a wag of a lawyer present, "Mr. —, please withdraw with the prisoner, confer with him, and then give him such counsel as may be best to his interest." The lawyer and his client withdrew, and in fifteen or twenty minutes, the lawyer returned into court, alone. "Where's the prisoner?" "He has gone, your honor," said the hopeful legal limb. "Your honor told me to give him the best advice I could for his interest, and as he said he was guilty, I thought the best counsel I could offer him was to cut and run, which he took at once."

Red Jacket took part with the Americans in the war of 1812, and becoming attached to a colonel, who was ordered on a distant service, took his farewell of him in the following speech: "Brother, I hear you are going to a place called Governor's Island; I hope you will be a governor yourself. I understand you white people think children a great blessing; I hope you may have a thousand. And above all, I hope, wherever you go, you may never find whisky more than two shillings a quart."

BY THIS MORNING'S MAIL.

The New York papers received this morning, contain no further news from the seat of war, than that we published yesterday, in our second edition, and which we republish this morning in our regular edition.

From the N. Y. Express.

FROM WASHINGTON.

A WAR MESSAGE COMING!

The mail fails to-day beyond Norfolk, Va., so that we have nothing later directly from the seat of war; but, the Government, Congress, and the city of Washington, are in the greatest state of excitement.

The President is to send in a message to-day, (Monday,) recommending an immediate DECLARATION OF WAR AGAINST MEXICO, and the blockade of all her ports.

This was the determination in a Cabinet Council held on Sunday.

Many letters have been received here from officers of the army, and Gen. Worth has been constantly consulted.

There seems to be no doubt that the Mexican force was secretly augmented, until it has reached between TEN and TWELVE THOUSAND STRONG. This is the estimate of the letters received here.

Capt. Ramsey has received letters to that effect, from the officer in command at Point Isabel, and so has Senator Cameron.

The Military Committee of Congress held their meetings yesterday, for making their estimates of the forces and the resources to be provided for by Congress.

They will report to-day, (Monday,) a recommendation to raise FIFTY THOUSAND VOLUNTEERS, and an appropriation of TEN MILLIONS OF DOLLARS.

Gen. Taylor, it is said in Washington, was doubtless deceived by Gen. Ampudia, in order to get his forces over the Rio Grande, to take possession without resistance in the Chaparra, (a wood composed principally of prickly pear, and almost impassable,) between him and the depot of provisions.

The deception consisted in forewarning Gen. Taylor against robbers and marauders that infested his vicinity, in order to lull him into security and to throw him off his guard,—to make him, in fact believe there would be no fighting, so that, in the meantime, the Mexicans might take a position on the American side of the Rio Grande.

This had the double effect upon Gen. Taylor, of lulling him into security, and of preventing his sending out scouts, and scouting parties to watch the Mexicans, for fear they would be cut off in detail by these robbers and marauders as Porter's party was.

Such is the opinion Gen. Worth is reported to have advanced to Gen. R. Jones in Washington.

The Administration is completely struck back by the astounding news. There is nothing else thought of, or talked of, in the Capitol. The whole Mississippi Valley will soon be let loose upon Mexico. The universal cry is TO ARMS! TO ARMS!!

From Yesterday's Second Edition.

HOSTILITIES COMMENCED. A BATTLE.

SUCCESS OF A MEXICAN AMBUSH—CAPT. THORNTON, AND THIRTEEN AMERICANS KILLED, AND FORTY-SIX TAKEN PRISONERS—CALL UPON THE GOVERNORS OF TEXAS AND LOUISIANA FOR TROOPS.

SUNDAY MORNING, MAY 10, 1846.
ELEVEN O'CLOCK.

M. Y. BRACH & SONS, Sun office, N. Y.

The steamer Galveston, Capt. Wright, arrived at New Orleans 1st inst., with intelligence that on the 23d ult., a Mexican came into Gen. Taylor's camp and reported that 2000 Mexicans were crossing the Rio Grande, 20 miles above. Capt. Hardee Thornton, with two companies of cavalry, consisting of 60 men in all, went out to reconnoitre and fell into an ambush of the enemy. Lieut. Coin and 13 men were killed. Capt. Missing and Capt. Hardee, with 46 men, taken prisoners. The Mexicans, commanded by Canales and Cabalaja, after fight, reinforced to 3000 men well equipped with artillery, when they surrounded the American camp and cut off all communication with Point Isabel.

Gen. Taylor's work was expected to be completed by 30th ult., and fire opened upon Matamoras. Gen. Taylor made requisitions upon the Gov. of Texas for 2400 riflemen, and upon the Governors of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama for 8000 troops on the 2d May. In the street N. Orleans, volunteers were actively responding to Gov. Henderson's call, and making preparations for immediate departure, the Legislature of Louisiana patriotically appropriated 100,000 dollars for the service. Gen. M. Hunt was organizing Texan troops and was expected to march very soon to the relief of Gen. Taylor, whose situation was most critical, having only ten days' provisions and cut off from all supplies. Great excitement in New Orleans. Nothing of importance from Congress.

Newport Photographic Depot,
R. I. Union Bank Buildings, Thames street.

THE Subscriber would respectfully give notice to the Ladies and Gentlemen of this place and vicinity, that he has taken and refitted the rooms formerly occupied by him, in the R. I. Union Bank Buildings, for the purpose of executing MINIA-TURES by the Daguerreotype Process. Having but a short time since returned from New York, with all the latest improvements, he feels confident that he can give those that will honor him with a call, a miniature superior in tone, and finish, to any ever before offered to the public, and at prices that cannot fail to please.

None know how to appreciate these Miniatures, until they are called to part with a near relation, or an intimate friend, when perhaps it may be too late, to catch the light ere their shadow fades; therefore, those that wish a correct likeness, as well as a fine picture, of themselves, or friends, will do well to give an early call.

Any person having fine Paintings, Portraits, or Miniatures, can have them copied with great accuracy.

These Miniatures can be set in Lockets, Pins, Frames, Cases, &c., to suit the purchaser.

Persons sitting for a Miniature at these rooms, is warranted a perfect Likeness or no charge.

Miniatures can be taken as accurate in cloudy weather, as in pleasant, between the hours of 8 A. M. and 4 P. M. WILLIAM A. JUDSON.

HOUSE TO LET.
"Strange that a harp of thousand strings
Should keep in tune so long."

THE subscriber has several chambers to let in his house which is beautifully located directly opposite Trinity Church Burying Ground; he will rent the rooms with furniture, or without, as may best suit the tenant. There is probably, no more desirable spot in Newport, for those whose souls are not entirely steeped in sin, and wrapped up in the flimsy veil of this world's delusion; the occupant may sit at the window, and view the best home of man in all its mysterious and solemn grandeur,—and seriously reflect upon the great uncertainty of all things human. Here he can commune with himself, and meditate, in full view of the grave yard, on the final consummation of all things, and anticipate that universal crash, when the earth shall be burned up, and the heavens be rolled together as a scroll. We must reflect upon these things here, and be prepared with our passport when we meet the last Tyler, or we shall receive the fatal mark of the black brush; why, land! what is a few days' sojourn in this miserable world, compared to a high seat in the Celestial Lodge above, where the Knighthood will be gathered in the pure robes of innocence and beauty!

In order to secure the chambers, early application should be made, to

NO MORE SUFFERING
FROM Diseases, Eruptions and Blemishes of the Skin. No more annoyance from Pimples, Freckles, Blisters, Pustules or Sallow Complexion; no more Pain or Irritation from the poisonous bites of Musquitoes, Wasps, and other venomous insects. All those diseases and annoyances are speedily cured by RADWAY'S CHINESE MEDICATED SOAP, retail price 12 1-2 cents per cake.

This Soap is an Eastern Botanical discovery of superior efficacy for rendering the skin soft, clear and fair, and imparting to the complexion a healthy rosy hue; as a restorer and conservator of a transparently fair skin Radway's Chinese Medicated Soap may be said to exert an almost magical effect; it being perfectly free from all mineral admixture; it is distinguished for its extremely bland, purifying and soothing effects upon the skin, while by its action on the pores and minute secretory vessels expels all impurities from the surface, always every tendency to inflammation, and effectually removes all redness, Tan, Pimples, Spots, Freckles, Salt Rheum, Ring Worm, Erysipelas, Rash, and other unsightly cutaneous visitations.

Caution.—The great celebrity which this valuable Saponaceous compound has attained, has caused a host of imitators to counterfeit this excellent article. The public will please be on their guard and purchase none other unless it bears the fac simile signature of R. G. Radway, on the outside wrapper. For sale in Newport by

You will excuse, kind reader, the above innocent deception, to induce you to read this advertisement, as it is for your benefit as well as our own.

RE-OPENING OF THE UNITED STATES CLOTHING STORE.

A still greater revolution in the sale of READY MADE CLOTHING. New Store and new Goods, at the old stand, where the public have been favored with so many good bargains. 91 Thames street, one door north of Messrs. W. B. & E. J. Swan's. THE PROPRIETOR of this Establishment has the pleasure of informing the people of Newport and its vicinity, that he has leased the new and commodious store, 91 Thames street, for the purpose of carrying on the Ready Made Clothing Business, where the public may be assured that they will always find on hand the largest assortment of Clothing and Furnishing Goods in the place, as well as the lowest prices. If I can but induce the people to call upon me, I will give them the most positive proof of the truth of this assertion, as I am determined to secure for the United States Clothing Store a tremendous run of custom, and, aware as I am, that competition is so severe, that the only mode of success is to offer my Goods at a small advance on Cost. Will the people call upon me? I will give them the most positive and pleasing evidence of what I say; still more, I will not urge them with undue persuasion to purchase what they do not want. The custom of forcing goods upon people has become so prevalent that they are sorely perplexed to know where they can go and be allowed the use of their own judgment in selection of Goods. Obedient to the behest of you to call and examine my stock of Clothing and Furnishing Goods, before purchasing elsewhere, which consists of a large and good assortment of FROCK and DRESS COATS, of a variety of styles and colors; also, a large quantity of Tweed FROCK and SACK COATS; 2 or 3 dozen of the Good Mexico Tweed, a most beautiful article for summer, Kentucky Jeans, and a great variety of other kinds, too numerous to mention.

As well as the above articles, I have a great variety of Coats, Pants, Vests, and Jackets, made of various kinds of goods, which go to make up a full assortment, but which it is needless to specify.

FURNISHING GOODS.

I challenge the place to show such an assortment. I have Shirts of the latest French styles and patterns, with yoke necks, from $1.25 to $2.50; also, common Shirts, with linen bosoms and collars, from 67c to $1.50. Linen Bosoms, plain, pleated, and Ruffled; from 25c to $1.00. Linen Collars of all styles and qualities; from 8c to 25c. Cotton Flannel Shirts and Drawers, Lapin's wool, do; Portsmouth, do; Red twilled Under-shirts and Drawers; Hickory Shirts and Overalls. HANDKERCHIEFS—Twilled Spindlefield, Plaid, do. figured Pongee, white and red, do; Bandanna, do. &c. &c.

STOCKS AND CRAVATS.

Fancy Silk and Satin Tye Stocks; Bombazine and Black, do; do; Satin ends, do; Bow, do; Plain, do; Bombazine Bow and Satin pleated Stocks; Rich figured Silk and Satin Cravats and Hdkfs; Italian Silk Hdkfs; Black French, do; Linen Muslin, Madras, and Gingham, do.

HATS and CAPS; the assortment is very large—call and examine for yourselves.

Suspenders of every description, from 8c to $1.25. Silk, Gingham and Cotton Umbrellas; Hickory, Palm Wood, and Rattan Canes. Seamen's Clothing; Oil Shirts; Reefing Jackets; Glazed Hats; Overalls, &c. &c.

Trunks, Valises, and Carpet Bags; also Ladies' Hat Cases; Fancy Articles, and Perfumeries.

Also—R. B. JONES' celebrated Hedyssmia or concentrated Prussian Essence, combining all the fragrant properties of the well known odoriferous compound, acknowledged by the Royal Family and Nobility, the most elegant perfume for the assembly or boudoir, imparting to the handkerchief a very agreeable, refreshing and lasting odor.

BOYS CLOTHING.

The United States Clothing Store stands unrivalled in the sale of Boys' Clothing; and I have now on hand a large assortment of blue and black Broadcloth Suits, that will fit boys from 4 years old to ten. Also, a large assortment of Fancy suits of the best French Cassimere. Don't forget the number, 91 Thames street, sign of the large Window.

Boiles' Phonographic Pronouncing Dictionary of the English Language.

TO which is added, a vocabulary of Greek, Latin, Scripture, Christian, and Geographic Names, with their Pronunciation.

THIS WORK is believed to be in many respects the most complete, and for all ordinary purposes, the most convenient Dictionary of the English Language ever offered to the public. While it contains many thousand more words than any other, it gives in a peculiarly simple, clear, and unmistakable manner, the most approved pronunciation of each. The vocabulary of pronounced proper names and other tables appended to the work, will be found an invaluable addition. Published by BOLLIES & WILLIAMS, New London, Conn.

The Columbian Magazine, 1846.

Edited by JOHN INMAN and ROBERT A. WEST. IN entering upon the fifth volume of the Columbian Magazine we find ourselves somewhat perplexed as to the right execution of our task. We have much to say of the past, but it might seem egotistical to say it; and we have much to say of the future, but we fear lest we should appear unduly to boast. On the other hand, something at this season must be said, lest we should appear ungrateful for the steadily increasing patronage bestowed upon us. Is not ours a pleasant predicament? On one hand stands the spirit of our proverbial modesty, and the moment we begin to speak of what we have done and shall do, it lays its shadowy finger upon its ghostly lips, and with other mysterious gestures frowns us into silence; on the other hand the generous public—the embodiment and impersonation of several thousands of subscribers and readers—demands that we pay tribute to their liberal patronage, that we recall the pleasures they have been wont to enjoy for now, two years in our pages, and that we declare our plans for the future. We have, of course, no figure left but to exorcise the ghost of our native bashfulness. 'Tis done;—and now we will talk freely with our "dear public" of ourselves and our intentions.

How rapidly, and notwithstanding difficulties to be surmounted, how pleasantly has time sped since we tried the experiment of a new magazine in this great emporium of commerce. Two years only have elapsed, and yet our enterprise has been crowned with success, and the pages of the Columbian Magazine periodically gladden and instruct the hearts of the matchless fair ones of our own proud city and state, throwing the light of its pleasant tales and ever virtuous sentiments over many thousand family circles; fostering purest affections and teaching lessons that well might fall from mother's lips into maiden's listening ears. Already has our magazine numerous readers in every State of the Union. The shrewd and observant New Englander greets it with a hearty welcome; on summer's eve beneath shady trees, or on winter's night around the glowing hearth, many a youthful scion of a worthy sire reads aloud from its pages, while beautiful and virtuous daughters ply the willing needle, and aged sire and dame exchange approving and delighted glances. Far away in the thickly peopled West do we aid in upholding and perpetuating the refining influence of literature and art, and soothe the asperities of arduous toil and isolated life; and the sunny South greets us monthly with a frank and generous welcome. Yes, brief though our existence has been, it has neither been profitless nor joyless. We have sought to supply Americans with a magazine worthy of America, and the universal hail of welcome that has greeted us has far exceeded our expectations, while it has increased our conviction that a magazine such as we have been able to furnish, was needed for the many thousands of American readers.

We enter upon our third year with bright and cheering prospects. Every where has the press spoken in terms of high commendation, not alone of the literary contents of the Columbian, but of its unsurpassed embellishments, and never with warmer praise than during the last six months. This, with our increased circulation, we take as an acknowledgement that we have fulfilled the promise we renewed six months ago. We need not again renew them. Be it ours, to do and not to boast. To those who have patronized us so far, we offer grateful thanks. We have no doubt that we shall continue to secure their approval and their good wishes. To those who, now that the new postage laws are in full operation, and a new year is commencing, will doubtless swell the list of our patrons, we say that we have contracted for, and have in progress some of the richest and rarest embellishments for the new volume, that have ever been produced in this country—embellishments designed as well as executed expressly for the work; and that we have entered into treaty with many of the first American authors regularly to aid us by their literary labors. These arrangements have of course entailed upon us great expense, but we intend that the Columbian shall be the first in every respect the best of American magazines. Let there be no misapprehension on this point, and let our friends give us the return of a still larger patronage, for we will deserve it.

As to the past or future discharge of our editorial duties it behoves us to say little. We shall indeed but express our obligations to our numerous correspondents, and request a continuance of their favors, assuring them that they shall ever have the most courteous attention at our hands.

We have but to add that the publisher enters upon a new volume, therefore, with expectations of increased patronage. He has every reason for indulging such expectations. Increased exertions will be made to deserve it in each department of the work.

Speaking of correspondents, we refer with pride to the annexed list of those who have hitherto aided us, embodying, as it does, names that are an honor to our country's literature—those who have attained to the highest fame and others who are steadily and rapidly pressing to the same goal.
